This workshop focusses on the complex art of planting design in a simplified way. Gardens are in a constant state of change and so are like a canvas, waiting for you to express yourself with each plant choice. This is the second of a series on gardens of Connection. Each workshop can be done as individual topics once the first workshop is completed.

Together in a small group, Betsy-Sue's inclusive and special way of working with people, sharing stories while helping them gently discover what lies within, brings insights that bring about positive change. Love from previous workshops...

"Wonderful, inspirational, absolutely healing. The most lovely course I have ever done. Thankyou.." Fran

"I feel like the classes with you helped me to return to this path, awakening something in me. The timing was divine. Thank you Betsy-Sue" Bron

"Such an amazing course - so much more than expected. To design your own garden - but a healing garden that just keeps giving back to yourself was so unthought of before this course and I'm so grateful for what Betsy-Sue has helped us create. Namaste" Teresa

"My favourite course I have ever done and loved learning how to create my own garden too. It has been a pleasure to have Betsy-Sue give this course in a safe and pleasant learning environment. Thanks so much." Jenny
